

Kaitlin Lindquist Counselling Clinical Consultation Agreement

I offer consultation services for professionals around trauma-informed practice and trauma counselling. This can also include use-of-self work, support around vicarious trauma/compassion fatigue, burn out, and navigating systems as professionals when working in environments that are not trauma-informed.

Please note, I do not provide formal supervision to students or anyone who is required to work under a supervisor. Consultation is a service to provide support, guidance, and explore possible approaches to get “unstuck” when working with clients. I am not responsible for the actions taken by any professional in the services they provide. I also do not provide consultation specific to EMDR or Somatic Experiencing™, but welcome questions about the approaches for those considering becoming trained in them.

Rate of Pay

My consultation services are $125 for a 50-minute session.

Cancellation/Missed Appointment Policy

If you need to cancel your appointment, at least 24 hours’ notice is needed. If less than 24 hours’ notice is provided or you miss your appointment completely, the full fee of the appointment will still be charged. Full payment is expected on the same day as the scheduled appointment. If it is possible to reschedule a missed appointment within the same week, the cancellation fee will be waived. This may not always be possible due to scheduling availability. Exceptions to the cancellation policy on compassionate grounds, such as unexpected medical emergencies or a death of a loved one, may be made.
